Ike's Directive Brings Hearings To Halt Long Standing Doctrine Upset By High Court

Subcommittee Votes Recess Until Monday

President's Secrecy Order Is Protested By McCarthy, Demos

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The McCarthy-Army hearings bumped into a presidential order today and the result was that they came to an unexpected, dramatic halt—for a week at least, maybe forever.

Taking a personal hand, President Eisenhower issued a directive forbidding Army witnesses to testify about the role of White House and other high officials in the televised controversy between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and civilian Pentagon chiefs.

McCarthy cried "Iron Curtain!" Democrats raised a protest of "whitewash." And in the end the Senate Investigations subcommittee voted to recess the public inquiry until next Monday to see if Eisenhower would withdraw or modify his secrecy clampdown.

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) declared there is nothing about the recess which "even remotely implies a discontinuation of these hearings" for good. The Democrats, however, said it looked to them as if the hearings may well have blown sky high—unless the President should change his mind.

The chances of Eisenhower doing this appeared pretty slim.

Separation Of Powers "Vital"

The President said in today's secrecy order, issued to Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, that his stand was taken "to maintain the proper separation of powers between the executive and legislative branches of the government in accordance with my responsibilities and duties under the Constitution."

And he said, too, in language that left little if any room for backtracking:

"This separation is vital to preclude the exercise of arbitrary power by any branch of the government."

And so ended—for the time being, at least—18 days of unprecedented, nationally televised hearings that brought day after day of testimony from Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams—but only brief, incidental trips to the witness stand by their main antagonists, McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn.

Meeting Details Barred

Specifically, Eisenhower's order forbade Adams—who was still on the witness stand when the breakup came—to give any further details of a Jan. 21 meeting of White House and other top level officials which led to the Army's head-on collision with McCarthy.

Catholic Weekly Raps McCarthy

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—The Roman Catholic weekly America said in an editorial today Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) was attempting a "piecemeal and 'peaceful' overthrow of the presidency."

The publication said the current McCarthy-Army hearings have "dramatized across the nation the grave constitutional issue posed by Sen. McCarthy's 'methods.'"

McCarthy is a Catholic. The nationally distributed magazine is published by members of the Jesuit Order. Its editor is the Rev. Robert C. Hartnett.

America said the presidency is the only office filled by national election, and under the principle of separation of powers, is directly delegated by the people as the executive authority.

"Whether or not the President is properly discharging the duties assigned him by the people . . . E. Stangle and Charles F. Crawl, Paul E. Lizer, a Hagerstown meat dealer, was cited in indictments naming Rowland and Stangle.

Nine of the bills charged either conspiracy to defraud or false pretense in connection with food bought for the jail or gasoline bought for the sheriff's office. The tenth accused Rowland of misfeasance in office.

Costello Draws Five-Year Term And $30,000 Fine

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—A federal judge threw the book at Frank Costello today, giving the racketeer income tax cheat five years in prison and a $30,000 fine. By custom, he could get no more.

Costello took it with a weak grin. He seemed dazed. It was only the third prison rap of his sinister underworld career—but by far the stiffest.

He was denied further bail and put behind bars despite an appeal.

"To the man in the street, Costello is the symbol of the successful racketeer," said Asst. U. S. Atty. Lloyd F. MacMahon in demanding the maximum sentence.

Example For "Easy Money Boys"

"The sentence he receives will stand as an example for the easy money boys. All his life he has flouted law and order."

Defense Atty. Leo Fennelly pleaded that Costello's health is not the best and estimated the 63-year-old racketeer has no more than nine years to live.

Federal Judge John F. X. McGohy went along with the government. He handed Costello the maximum of five years and $10,000 on each of three income tax evasion counts. As is customary, the court telescoped the terms so Costello can serve them together over a five year stretch.

Must Serve Over Three Years

With time off for good behavior, Costello can expect to serve three years and four months.

Judge McGohy also handed him a bill for the basic costs of the six weeks trial—which the government estimated at about $5,000.

A jury of seven men and five women on May 13 convicted the underworld big shot of evading payment of some $39,000 in taxes from 1947 through 1949.

Playboy Is Fined $25

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., May 17 (AP)—Playboy Nicky Hilton, heir of a wealthy hotel family, was in a subdued mood today when he appeared in Municipal Court and quietly pleaded guilty to a drunk charge.

Judge William Griffin fined him $25 and placed him on probation for two years.

Washington County Sheriff,

Aides, Meat Dealer Indicted

HAGERSTOWN, May 17 (AP)—Deputy Court Clerk Vaughn J. Sheriff Edward L. Rowland, four of his deputies and a meat dealer were indicted today by a Washington County Grand Jury which probed charges of irregularities in purchases for the county jail and sheriff's office.

Ten indictments were returned naming Rowland, Deputies Michael Farrie, Mary F. Stahl, Kenneth E. Stangle and Charles F. Crawl.

Paul E. Lizer, a Hagerstown meat dealer, was cited in indictments naming Rowland and Stangle.

Nine of the bills charged either conspiracy to defraud or false pretense in connection with food bought for the jail or gasoline bought for the sheriff's office. The tenth accused Rowland of misfeasance in office.

Ruling Brings Near Defiance In Deep South

Georgia Governor Blasts High Court; Byrnes "Shocked"

ATLANTA, May 17 (AP)—White political leaders of the Deep South reacted all the way from bitter criticism and near-defiance through milder anger and on to quiet caution today when the U. S. Supreme Court outlawed the area's traditional segregation of races in public schools.

Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, who has repeatedly vowed, "There never will be mixed schools while I am governor," was the most violent in his reaction, declaring, "The United States Supreme Court by its decision today has reduced our Constitution to a mere scrap of paper."

And in a neighboring state, Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, said because it has been held many times the separate but equal doctrine "was not violative of the Constitution, I am shocked to learn that the court has reversed itself."

Byrnes urged the final decree. While awaiting the final decree, Byrnes has been one of the leading advocates of segregation, urging "all of our people, white and colored, to exercise restraint and preserve order."

Talmadge lashed out at the court ruling in a prepared statement, saying:

"It (the court) has blatantly ignored all law and precedent and usurped from the Congress and the people the power to amend the Constitution and from the Congress the authority to make the laws of the land."

"Its action confirms the worst fears of the motives of the men who sit on its bench and raises a grave question as to the future of the nation."

He said Georgians "will fight for their right under the U. S. and Georgia Constitutions to manage their own affairs" and added the Supreme Court "lowered itself to the level of common politics" in handing down its unanimous ruling.

Negro spokesmen cheered the historic decision and expressed belief it could be made effective with a minimum of dislocation—given good will in both races.

The border states where segregation is practiced appeared to be taking the decision calmly.

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland said he confident the transition to non-segregated schools can be brought about "without confusion and without undue delay."

In West Virginia, officials seemed to be taking the Supreme Court ruling calmly. Government and school officials indicated the border state would go along quietly and slowly. State School Supt. W. T. Trent saw no major trouble ahead. West Virginia's constitution says simply, "White and colored persons shall not be taught in the same school."

Indochina Peace Plan Presented Parley By West

GENEVA, May 17 (AP)—France laid a Western proposal for a quick peace in Indochina before the Geneva conference today, but most of the secret session was devoted to a wrangle over evacuation of Dien Bien Phu's wounded.

The Western proposal was reported to outline detailed steps for ending hostilities, leaving political decisions for later. However, details of the plan were not made public. It was presented less than an hour before the session ended, and little debate was possible.

Question Unsettled

The question of evacuating the wounded from Dien Bien Phu was unsettled as the nine delegations ended their session. A reliable conference source said the Communists, headed by Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov and Red China's Chou En-lai, again tried to bring the French and Vietnamese into direct negotiations on the question here.

Although sentiment among some members of the French delegation for entering such negotiations was reported, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault has consistently rejected this course. He rejected it again today, the informant said.

A communique issued by U. S. delegation headquarters after the meeting said only that statements were heard on the evacuation of the wounded and that peace in Indochina also was discussed.

Burns Money, Sets Off $5,000 Blaze

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP)—Henry Johnson had money to burn today—and he burned it.

Johnson, a 29-year-old Negro laborer, told police he set fire to $85 in currency during a quarrel with his wife, Hilda. The flames spread out of control, resulting in an extra-alarm fire that routed 100 persons from the 20-apartment building where the Johnsons live.

Firemen estimated damage at $5,000.

Bloodied Shirt Is Found Behind Dead Vet's Home

LA PLATA, Md., May 17 (AP)—Police investigating the mysterious death of a crippled war veteran near here disclosed today that a sports shirt caked with blood had been found behind his home.

It was the third bloodstained garment found in or near the home of 34-year-old Louis A. Hicks since officers began investigating the death, which was first reported as an automobile accident.

The shirt was found by a deputy sheriff several days ago. The case was turned over to a special team of State Police investigators today.

Bloodied garments turned up earlier were a wind-breaker jacket and a pair of khaki trousers, found in the basement of the neat little bungalow where Hicks lived with his wife in the community of Port Tobacco.

Meanwhile, Judge J. Dudley Digges suggested in his charge to the new Charles County Grand Jury today that it may want to start an inquiry of its own into the case.

Hicks, paralyzed from the waist down by World War II wounds, was found dead March 28 in his specially equipped car which had crashed into the foundation of his home near La Plata.

After Hicks was buried in Arlington National Cemetery, Deputy Sheriff R. L. Vernon said he discovered the throttle of the car had been taped wide open.

Hicks remains were exhumed and sent to Baltimore for an autopsy, details of which have not yet been disclosed.

Weapons Cargo Left Polish Port, State Dept. Says

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The State Department charged today that "an important shipment of arms" has been sent to left wing Guatemala from "Soviet controlled territory."

"The Department of State considers that this is a development of gravity," an announcement said.

Without elaborating in any way, the announcement said the arms cargo is now being unloaded at the Guatemalan port of Puerto Barrios after arriving Saturday aboard the ship "Alhelm."

The arms, said the State Department, were shipped from the "Communist-administered port of Stettin formerly in East Germany and now in Communist-run Poland."

Department press officer Lincoln White refused to say where the arms were manufactured. Nor would he answer questions about the specific amount involved in the shipment.

"Because of the origin of these arms, the point of their embarkation, their destination and the quantity of arms involved," he said in his announcement "the Department of State considers that this is a development of gravity."

White declined to say what action, if any, the United States proposes to take. Top officials have long been worried that the left-wing regime in Guatemala might move against its Central American neighbors.

John E. Puerifoy, U. S. Ambassador to Guatemala, returned to his post last week after nearly two weeks of consultation with department officials about developments in that area.

A spokesman at the Guatemalan Embassy said the State Department's announcement was being cabled to Guatemala. He said the embassy will have no comment.

The new plan, broadcast to the rebels over the French radio, came as the French air force prepared to hurl all available American-supplied planes in mighty strikes at Vietnamese troops moving toward the Red River Delta.

The French proposal called for Repair of Dien Bien Phu's airfield to permit the use of larger planes in airlifting the wounded, removal of the wounded at the highest possible rate, cessation of air strikes of the 70-mile highway between Dien Bien Phu and Son La to permit the rebels to remove their own casualties, removal of Vietnamese-imposed barriers on evacuation of wounded Vietnamese, and French medical aid and air transport to French hospitals for gravely wounded rebels.

Squadrons of land and carrier-based warplanes were to take off at midnight to blast rebel troops and their supply convoys moving eastward and northeastward along all key roads from Dien Bien Phu toward the delta.

The French had stopped bombing this and other roads in the area last Friday after Vietnam had agreed to permit the evacuation of 450 of the 1,300 to 2,000 French Union wounded caught at Dien Bien Phu when it fell. Rebel Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap insisted the French must hold their fire on the roads so his own wounded could be moved.

Anti-"Fleeing" Laws FHA Aim

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration today sent Congress a bundle of proposed laws and regulations to outlaw "fleeing" of home owners and "windfall profits" for builders under FHA housing programs.

Acting Commissioner Norman P. Mason sent the list to Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee which has been investigating last month's disclosure of scandals in FHA's home repair and apartment construction programs.

"I was shocked," said the new FHA chief, "to learn that swimming pools and barbecue pits were being built with federally-insured mortgages."

The recommended changes in laws and FHA regulations would stop this "fantastic practice," said Mason, and would curb the overcharging of homeowners by unscrupulous salesmen and home repair contractors.

French In New Bid To Evacuate Fort's Wounded

HANOI, Indochina, May 17 (AP)—The French High Command made a new six-point proposal tonight for evacuating Dien Bien Phu's wounded, including an offer to evacuate seriously wounded rebel soldiers.

The new plan, broadcast to the rebels over the French radio, came as the French air force prepared to hurl all available American-supplied planes in mighty strikes at Vietnamese troops moving toward the Red River Delta.

The French proposal called for repair of Dien Bien Phu's airfield to permit the use of larger planes in airlifting the wounded, removal of the wounded at the highest possible rate, cessation of air strikes of the 70-mile highway between Dien Bien Phu and Son La to permit the rebels to remove their own casualties, removal of Vietnamese-imposed barriers on evacuation of wounded Vietnamese, and French medical aid and air transport to French hospitals for gravely wounded rebels.

Squadrons of land and carrier-based warplanes were to take off at midnight to blast rebel troops and their supply convoys moving eastward and northeastward along all key roads from Dien Bien Phu toward the delta.

The French had stopped bombing this and other roads in the area last Friday after Vietnamese had agreed to permit the evacuation of 450 of the 1,300 to 2,000 French Union wounded caught at Dien Bien Phu when it fell. Rebel Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap insisted the French must hold their fire on the roads so his own wounded could be moved.

U. N. Session Postponed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 17 (AP)—The United Nations announced today the postponement of a Security Council meeting scheduled for tomorrow to continue debate on Jordanian-Israeli problems.

The sessions with U. S. Steel, nation's top producer, will get most of the attention though because Big Steel is usually first to come to terms and therefore sets the industry pattern.

Steel Union To Reveal Pact Demands Today

PITTSBURGH, May 17 (AP)—The CIO United Steel Workers Union lays its contract demands for 600,000 basic steelworkers on the bargaining table tomorrow as negotiations get under way with U. S. Steel Corp.

Other big major producers will begin contract talks with the union before the end of the month. Many are scheduled to get down to business later this week. Current pacts expire June 30.

The sessions with U. S. Steel, nation's top producer, will get most of the attention though because Big Steel is usually first to come to terms and therefore sets the industry pattern.

Mammoth Plastic Balloon To Tote Secret Instruments

MINNEAPOLIS, May 17 (AP)—A mammoth plastic balloon, possibly the largest ever made, is scheduled to be launched in this area within a short time.

The balloon, made by General Mills, Inc., for the Office of Naval Research, will carry aloft secret instruments to study the upper atmosphere.

The Associated Press learned of the balloon and imminent launching from sources who asked not to be publicly identified.

Weapons Cargo Left Polish Port, State Dept. Says

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The State Department charged today that "an important shipment of arms" has been sent to left wing Guatemala from "Soviet controlled territory."

"The Department of State considers that this is a development of gravity," an announcement said.

Without elaborating in any way, the announcement said the arms cargo is now being unloaded at the Guatemalan port of Puerto Barrios after arriving Saturday aboard the ship "Alfheim."

The arms, said the State Department, were shipped from the "Communist-administered port of Stettin formerly in East Germany and now in Communist-run Poland."

Department press officer Lincoln White refused to say where the arms were manufactured. Nor would he answer questions about the specific amount involved in the shipment.

"Because of the origin of these arms, the point of their embarkation, their destination and the quantity of arms involved," he said in his announcement "the Department of State considers that this is a development of gravity."

White declined to say what action, if any, the United States proposes to take. Top officials have long been worried that the left-wing regime in Guatemala might move against its Central American neighbors.

John E. Puerfuerst, U.S. Ambassador to Guatemala, returned to his post last week after nearly two weeks of consultation with department officials about developments in that area.

A spokesman at the Guatemalan Embassy said the State Department's announcement was being cabled to Guatemala. He said the embassy will have no comment.

TV "Atom Attack" To Be Pure Fiction

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—An "atomic attack" on television tomorrow night will be pure fiction, ABC said tonight.

The network said the dramatic show to be put on at 8:30 p.m. (EST) tomorrow over the entire network will be realistic and authentic, thanks to the help of civil defense authorities.

But it won't be real, and viewers should not be excited by it, the network said.

The hour-long dramatization is to show what would happen in nearby Westchester County after a hydrogen bomb practically wiped out Manhattan Island.

Anti-"Fleeing" Laws FHA Aim

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration today sent Congress a bundle of proposed laws and regulations to outlaw "fleeing" of home owners and "windfall profits" for builders under FHA housing programs.

Acting Commissioner Norman P. Mason sent the list to Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee which has been investigating last month's disclosure of scandals in FHA's home repair and apartment construction programs.

"I was shocked," said the new FHA chief, "to learn that swimming pools and barbecue pits were being built with federally-insured mortgages."

The recommended changes in laws and FHA regulations would stop this "fantastic practice," said Mason, and would curb the overcharging of householders by unscrupulous salesmen and home repair contractors.

Long Standing Doctrine Upset By High Court

Vote Is 9-0; Hearings This Fall Will Decide How To End Practice

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that the states of the nation do not have the right to separate Negro and white pupils in different public schools.

By a unanimous 9-0 vote, the high court held that such segregation of the races is unconstitutional.

Chief Justice Warren read the historic decision to a packed but hushed gallery of spectators nearly two years after Negro residents of four states and the District of Columbia went before the court to challenge the principle of segregation.

The ruling does not end segregation at once. Further hearings were set for this fall to decide how and when to end the practice of segregation. Thus a lengthy delay is likely before the decision is carried out.

Dean Acheson, secretary of state under former President Harry Truman, was in the courtroom to hear the ruling. He called it "great and statesmanlike."

Atty. Gen. Brownell was also present. He declined comment immediately. Brownell and the Eisenhower administration, like Truman's, opposed segregation.

1896 Doctrine Struck Down

For years 17 Southern and "border" states have imposed compulsory segregation on approximately two-thirds of the nation's Negroes. Officials of some states already are on record as saying they will close the schools rather than permit them to be operated with Negro and white pupils in the same classrooms.

In its decision, the high court struck down the long standing "separate but equal" doctrine first laid down by the Supreme Court in 1896 when it maintained that segregation was all right if equal facilities were made available for Negroes and whites.

Here is the heart of today's decision as it deals with this hotly controverted doctrine:

"We come then to the question presented: Does segregation of children in public schools solely on the basis of race, even though the physical facilities and other 'tangible' factors may be equal, deprive the children of the minority group of equal education opportunities?"

"We believe that it does."

No White House Comment

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told a news conference the White House would have no comment at this time. He noted that Warren's opinion said formulation of specific decrees must await later hearings.

Gov. Herman Talmadge, one of the most outspoken supporters of segregation, hit back from Atlanta that the court's decision had reduced the Constitution to "a mere scrap of paper."

"It has blatantly ignored all law and precedent and usurped from the Congress and the people the power to amend the Constitution and from the Congress the authority to make the laws of the land," Talmadge said.

Reaction from Capitol Hill was swift and in some cases strongly critical.

Sen. Russell of Georgia, leader of Southern Democrats in the Senate, termed the decision "a flagrant abuse of judicial power." He said questions like that of segregation "cannot be decided by the courts." (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

D'Alesandro Trial Opens At Salisbury

SALISBURY, May 17 (AP)—Michael G. Sudano testified at the perjury trial of Franklin Roosevelt D'Alesandro here today that the 20-year-old son of Baltimore's mayor was with him, two other boys and two young girls on the morning of last July 21.

The testimony by the 19-year-old Sudano contradicted D'Alesandro's statement under oath in his statutory rape trial in Baltimore last fall that he had never seen the girls. He was acquitted of the rape charge and later indicted on charges of lying at his trial.

Sudano was brought here from the State Reformatory for Males, where he is serving a sentence for rape in the same series of morals cases. He was the first witness to testify for the State as the trial opened in Wicomico County Circuit Court. It was transferred here from Baltimore.

Sudano said he formerly lived near the D'Alesandro home in Baltimore and that he and "Roosie" used to go to the Baltimore Raceway and other places together.

He testified that young D'Alesandro "was in the back of the automobile with (one of the girls) and myself" on the night of July 20. He said that they visited the home of the mayor for some soft drinks before locating an apartment on West Preston St. in Baltimore in which to keep the girls.

D'Alesandro, the only one of 14 defendants found innocent in the sensational series of morals cases involving the same girls, was charged with perjury after a special grand jury investigation. The jury had been directed to review his testimony and that of the three co-defendants at their trials.

Communist Underground

Characteristics Of Communist Mind Inherent In Red Papers

This is the third article in a series on the Communist underground in America.

By JOHN F. ALLEN

Copyright 1954

By The San Francisco Examiner

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17 (INS)

The average American finds it difficult to understand the Communist mind.

It is a disciplined mind, dedicated with religious fervor to an ideal of world domination which swallows practically all personal feelings or ambitions; it is filled with intrigue.

It is a mind almost completely humorless and lacking in curiosity; it is suspicious to a high degree and inclines toward extreme fear of the slightest mental deviation.

All these characteristics are inherent in the contents of a pile of secret documents concerning the operation of the Communist underground obtained by the San Francisco Examiner.

Take, for instance, an undated letter written by Sidney Steinberg, before he was convicted of a fugitive harboring charge as the head of the Communist ("Mollie") underground movement in the west, to a comrade identified only as Steve.

The letter apparently was written early last summer, when Steinberg, a fugitive from a Smith Act indictment and posing as Joshua Newberg, a violin and mandolin teacher, was busy setting up the now famed Twain Harte cabin as Mollie headquarters.

"With regard to the proposition you discussed with Jim about Mollie, the locations of her children, etc.," the letter reads in part, "it seems to me we should work as you suggest . . . our date with Molie stands as originally agreed to." The American Communist does not change his mind until he is directed by the Kremlin to do so, and even a bigtime Red like Steinberg must walk with dialectic care.

"Our slogan of stop the spreading of the Korean War became obsolete, and (in view of the Pravda editorial) 'negotiate a peaceful settlement' immediately became the slogan of the day."

America is always the enemy—the "they"—while the policies of the Soviet Union are always "our" policies.

Apparently word had reached Steinberg that Robert Thompson, his big boss and the fugitive for whom the Twain Harte cabin was being prepared as hideout and headquarters, had been fingered by the FBI.

"The most disturbing information," an excerpt from another of Steinberg's letters reads, "is of course about T's whereabouts being known . . . It shows either a leak or their ability to keep track even of a guy who was supposed to be 'secure' . . . I am inclined to believe that the knowledge was due to a stool pigeon, and if that is the case our friend J might be in touch with J so that he can take extra measures to clear himself before he gets back."

J, it appears from other documents, was Carl Ross, arrested with Steinberg at Twain Harte last summer and convicted of conspiring to harbor Thompson.

It is obvious from the tone of the others letters in and out of Mollie headquarters that Smith Act arrests and raids up and down the coast was creating a bad state of jitters among the comrades; even a close associate was not necessarily to be trusted.

Steinberg whines a little about the "latest drive of the Department of Justice," and then appends his own explanation of the increasing Red arrests:

"I think (these drives) reflect basically two major facts: The worsening of the international situation and the very low level of fight back against the Smith Act, etc."

"We should soberly estimate that unless some very effective peace actions and anti-Smith Act campaign of a broad nature gets under way soon we must expect increasing attacks, greater raids, more numerous arrests under the Smith Act, by the immigration authorities, on perjury charges, etc., including a widespread campaign to revoke citizenship."

The only really amusing sections of these various documents are the strained efforts of the comrades to avoid committing themselves to a personal opinion on party matters until they are sure the party line has been established. Witness Josh (Steinberg) to Steve:

"Am now in the process of studying Malenkov's report. You are undoubtedly doing the same and must be further advanced than I since you received it earlier. I would therefore appreciate it very much if you would send along any comments you have on it and I will be happy to reply in kind."

But Steve is not to be caught off base by a trick like that. In a later letter he tells Josh in effect:

"Come on, you tell me what you think first."

Steinberg's letter would also appear to prove conclusively that the Peoples' World, the San Francisco newspaper which continues to insist it is not controlled by the party, is, in fact, a Communist organ and that the unidentified Steve is an employee of the paper.

"What happened to the articles which we wrote for the P. W.?" a postscript reads. "When do I get to see your's on maritime?"

Some excerpts from a letter written to eastern Communist leaders by Carl Ross are of interest.

The letter was written early in 1953, when Foss and Steinberg were preparing to shift Pacific Coast Mollie headquarters to the mountain cabin. The "John" referred to is quite evident Thompson, gone underground as John Francis Brennan. Parts of the letter:

"Thanks for letting me know regarding John's trip. We will make preparations immediately . . . Please ask John to report to the place at 11 a. m., or alternative at 3 p. m., so that a quick pick-up can be carried out and he doesn't have to hang around. I'm referring to Feb. 9th. We're sending material that should give him a picture of some angles of the situation."

Some of the other plans for pick-ups and contacts read more like fiction than fact, for instance, found in a brief case at the Twain Harte cabin:

"Time No. 1 8 p. m.

No. 2 10:30 p. m.

"Place: Ashby and College.

Drug store corner.

"I. D. his name: Harold Maxwell."

PROVED BEST VALUE FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS

THE NEW HI-TEST BLUE SUNOCO

WINS AGAINST 16 PREMIUM-PRICED BRANDS

All the claims of other gasolines can't change results of this test

Proved at Indianapolis Track

The Test: New High-Test Blue Sunoco was tested against 16 premium-priced gasolines at Indianapolis Track under supervision of famed Wilbur Shaw, President of Track. Each day of test, 16 cars (including cars with highest compression engines) were fueled with $3 worth of gasoline and driven around track 'til tanks ran dry. Number of miles each car went was accurately recorded by impartial observers. The fleet of cars was run on New Blue Sunoco and on all 16 premium-priced gasolines.

The Results: New High-Test Blue Sunoco—at regular gas price—beat them all! It gave up to 14.9% more miles (average: 10.4%) per dollar than premium-priced brands tested. Ask your Sunoco dealer for the names of these premium-priced brands. Then test New Blue Sunoco and see the difference it makes in your car.

How Sun's one-grade policy gives you high-test performance at regular gas price

Sun Oil Company produces only one grade of gasoline—New High-Test Blue Sunoco. This policy saves on tanks, trucks, pumps. These savings are invested in research and new, improved refining processes to give you the New Blue Sunoco—premium quality still at regular gas price.

We save on tanks We save on trucks We save on pumps

You save every mile you drive with New Blue Sunoco

If you have been instructed by your Car Dealer or Owner's Manual to use a "premium" (or "high-test") gasoline, get New High-Test Blue Sunoco, the premium quality gasoline still at regular gas price.

McCarthy contended he will be unable to present his case unless he can find out—and put on the record—what took place at that meeting and any subsequent meetings at which the Army's course of action might have been planned.

The Wisconsin senator, who bitterly protested Eisenhower's secretary order, said he must determine whether his real foes were Stevens and Adams or persons higher up in the administration.

McCarthy Sees Revocation

"You can't go on (with the hearings) with that order in effect," he told reporters. "When the President has it explained to him what he signed, I am sure he will revoke it."

"I would like to know who foisted this order on the President. I think he is too essentially fair to do this on his own."

The Democrats, while likewise lamenting Eisenhower's action, objected to a full week's recess and tried unsuccessfully to have the hearings resume Wednesday morning. The final vote to call a halt until Monday was on strict party lines—four Republicans for, three Democrats against.

McCarthy, who had stepped off the subcommittee for purposes of this inquiry, said it made no difference to him how long the hearings recessed — so long as it gave time enough for the probes to seek a relaxation of the Eisenhower order.

"That," said McClellan, "is a pretty grave responsibility for the administration to take."

The week-long recess was ordered, however, and Mundt got in touch with Brownell right away to arrange a meeting tomorrow for discussion of possible withdrawal or modification of the President's ruling.

Mayor Federico Canclara of the city of Minervino Murge, population 20,000 says the whole thing started two months ago when he publicly resigned from the Communist party.

Nothing happened until today when the lady — who police say is known as "Latte e Burro" (Milk and Butter)—walked in and said she must see the mayor. As soon as the door was closed she started stripping off her clothes and yelling for help.

The mayor yelled, too.

But by the time Milk and Butter was down to her last garments the door burst open and there stood the secretary of the local Communist party, the secretary of the Communist-led local Chamber of Labor and a crowd of about 300.

Police finally saved the mayor from the crowd and arrested Milk and Butter on a charge of falsely pretending to have been a victim of assault, and arrested the two Communist officials on charges of an "outrage to a public official."

Doris Jane Eberly Is Bride Of C. R. Startzman

Miss Doris Jane Eberly, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Eberly, 15 North Grant Street, Frostburg, and the late Frank P. Eberly, became the bride of Charles Richard Startzman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Startzman, 1025 West Washington Street, Hagerstown, Saturday.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized at 10 a. m., in St. Michael's Catholic Church, with Rev. Regis Francis Larkin officiating. Candelabra of tall tapers and bouquets of white gladioli, snapdragons and carnations decorated the altar.

Mrs. Thomas A. Block, Hagerstown, was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant, while Robert Startzman served as his brother's best man, and Thomas A. Block and Thomas Martin, both of Hagerstown, were the ushers. Miss Madeline Walters sang, "Mother at Your Feet Is Kneeling," Shubert's "Ave Maria," "Bless Us Dearest Lord," and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Genevieve Goldworthy, who also played the processional from the opera, Lohengrin and the recessional from Mendelssohn's Mid-Summer Night's Dream.

Given in marriage by her brother, Francis Eberly, Eckhart, the bride was attired in a waltz length gown of white nylon net with inserts of Chantilly lace over satin. It was fashioned with a lace jacket with Peter Pan collar and long sleeves. Her fingertip length veil was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. Completing her costume she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and roses, which she dedicated to the Blessed Mother, and a white Bible with orchid marker.

Her attendant wore an orchid net over taffeta waltz length dress with orchid slippers and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and spring flowers, matching her headdress of yellow roses.

Mrs. Eberly chose a beige lace dress with blue hat and accessories for her daughter's wedding. With it she had a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Startzman wore a blue lace dress with a blue picture hat and had a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride is a graduate of St. Michael's School and Beall High School, where she was a member of Tri-Hi-Y the Nurses Club and worked on the school paper. Until her marriage she was a student nurse at Washington County Hospital, Hagerstown.

The bridegroom is a graduate of St. Mary's High School, Hagerstown and attended Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. A merchant in Hagerstown, he is a member of the Knights of Columbus, and the Hagerstown Volunteer Fire Department.

Mrs. Eberly entertained with a wedding breakfast for the bridal party and immediate families. It was held at the Legion Home following the ceremony. Beginning at noon the wedding reception was held with the hall decorated in white tulips and snapdragons. The three tiered wedding cake was adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Joseph Cotterino, Lutherville, sister of the bride; and Mrs. Charles Eberly cut the cake. They were assisted in serving by Mrs. Anna Laber, Miss Rose Marie Pressman and Miss Catherine Pressman, cousins of the bride. Mrs. Frances Eberly was in charge of the decorations.

For their wedding trip to Florida the bride wore a beige suit, with matching hat and accessories and her orchid corsage. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Startzman will reside at 308 East Wilson Boulevard, Hagerstown.

Mrs. Eberly also entertained with an open house following the rehearsal Friday. The table was centered with a miniature wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Ann Devlin Eberly. The color scheme throughout was pink and white, with clusters of wedding bells.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Startzman, Robert Startzman, Joseph Startzman, Mrs. Patricia Ridenour, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Block, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin, Hagerstown; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Parry, Coriganville; and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cotterino, Lutherville.

Reward Offered For Meter Breakers

Commissioner of Police and Fire John J. Long has been authorized to offer a $25 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for breaking city parking meters.

Nine of the meters were broken last week on Union Street and another Sunday night on Harrison Street. All are of the new, plastic dome type recently purchased by the city.

The Mayor and Council authorized Long to post the reward at yesterday morning's session after he had pointed out that a city ordinance provides for a fine of $100 upon conviction for such vandalism.

Police Not Eligible

It was emphasized members of the Police Department are not eligible for the reward.

Long said investigating officers are of the opinion the vandalism is the work of a man since vandals would lack the strength to break the strong plastic dome which covers the timing mechanisms of the meters.

Long asserted police are doing all they can to apprehend the responsible party, and added "I assure you we will follow through." Council accepted two bids yesterday. One was by Cumberland Cement and Supply Company for $32.44 a ton for 30 tons of calcium chloride for use of the Street Department.

Concession Bid Accepted

The bid of Paul W. Holtzman of $600 to operate the concession and casino at Constitution Park this season was also accepted pending approval of a contract by the Mayor and Council. A meeting with Holtzman is scheduled today at 2 p. m.

Referred to Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker was the request of the Texas Company to install a 2,000 gallon underground gas storage tank at Walter Blankenship and Son, corner of Ford and River avenues.

Council was invited to the "Thank You Day" of the Cumberland Community Chest scheduled Friday.

Meter Inspector Harry Whisner reported collections decreased $131.08 during the week May 2-9.

Rev. Jacob Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church, gave the invocation opening yesterday morning's session.

Cumberlander Jailed For Tampering

Convicted on two charges of tampering with motor vehicles, a 32-year-old Cumberland man was ordered yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court to serve 30 days in Allegany County jail.

The defendant, Harding Vincent Richardson, 512 Hill Street, pleaded not guilty to both counts and denied knowledge of the cases.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason imposed separate 30-day terms on the charges, but ordered that the sentences run concurrently. Relations indicated that an appeal would be filed.

Detectives Roy Hawse and Walter P. Dennison nabbed Richardson Saturday night as he alighted from the parked car of Ray C. Leighty, Mt. Savage, who had parked the machine on a lot at the rear of the Windsor Hotel.

In the suspect's possession was a cigar box containing tools owned by Leighty, and a cigaret lighter taken from the dashboard.

Richardson claimed the machine belonged to his mother and that he used the tools in his work, the officers testified.

Searched at Police Headquarters, Richardson was carrying a knife stolen Thursday night from the automobile of George H. Harris, 483 Eastern Avenue, who had parked the car on Baltimore Avenue. Also taken and still missing were valuable papers.

Is there such a thing as a GRASSHOPPER MIND when it comes to buying beer?

Some breweries must think so . . . when you add up all the wild claims which they make for their beers. We've found that sensible people respect quality and recognize good taste in the beer they enjoy.

A wise customer appreciates a product which is brewed up to a standard . . . not down to a slogan.

Let's take a reminder look at some advertising boasts which have been published around here. Recognize any?

We've seen all the circus stunts come and go. But good taste never goes out of fashion.

Brewed in small quantities

Each beer has its own characteristics . . . that's why we brew Old Export in small quantities. These small quantities give us better . . . much better . . . flavor control.

They account for Old Export's unchanging good taste.

Old Export 5-times greater today
Today Old Export has increased its business 5-times over since Repeal began in 1933. No other beer around here can even get close to that continuous brewing achievement.

The best way to check the truth of what we've been saying about our beer for 64 years . . . is to ask for Old Export. Try it.

Official U. S. Government findings

"Analyses of beer samples have shown that the sugar content varied so little, amounting in no instance to more than negligible trace, as to have no appreciable effect on the caloric content."

Independent research proves that no leading beer has less calories than Old Export.

TVA Chairmanship Becomes Vacant

The chairmanship of the Tennessee Valley Authority requires "the highest kind of professional competence," according to President Eisenhower; he promised (May 5) that there would be "no politics" in his forthcoming appointment. The TVA law specifically forbids the appointment of officials on a political basis. The oath taken by the chairman requires a statement of belief in the "wisdom and feasibility" of the project.

Backers of TVA have been championing the present chairman, Gordon Clapp, for reappointment. His term expires today. On March 16 a delegation presented to the President a petition bearing the signatures of 60,000 residents of the valley urging retention of Clapp. However, Senator Cooper (R., Ky.) has opposed Clapp's reappointment. Cooper is a staunch supporter of the Eisenhower program in the Senate. He faces a difficult campaign in Kentucky this year.

Cooper concedes that Clapp has been above partisan politics. "My chief criticism of the present management," he has said, "is that it does not suggest, explore, or attempt to help Congress and TVA with alternatives for continued full federal support for the development."

Senator Cooper is reported to have sidetracked the candidacy of Harry C. Carbaugh of Chattanooga, a former vice chairman of the Republican National Finance Committee, for the TVA chairmanship. The name of Brig. Gen. Robert R. Neyland Jr., athletic director of the University of Tennessee, has been prominently mentioned for the job. A retired Army engineer, Neyland was graduated from West Point a year behind President Eisenhower. In recent months he has been in ill health. Other possible nominees are Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, wartime head of the atom bomb project, and Roger B. McWhorter, chief engineer of the Federal Power Commission at Riverton,

The New Program

The Communist party of the United States has issued a new program which is entitled "The American Way." They are circulating this as a draft program inviting discussion and criticism. If read without background, this document does not quite make sense, but related to the history of the party and the general attitude of the Kremlin, it is indicative of continued vitality and a new aggressive attitude.

The first point in the draft program calls for a renewal of united front activities. The most successful united front in the history of the Communist party was the League Against War and Fascism (the League for Peace and Democracy), which, at one time, reached a membership of 4,000,000. It was the greatest achievement of the leadership of Earl Browder. Many who joined it did not know that it was a Communist front organization. Under the battering of congressional committees, many united front organizations were destroyed. This was supplemented by the attorney general's list, which became a determining factor in pin-pointing these organizations.

Now the draft program calls for a renewal of united front activities. It says:

"At a time of great national fear and anxiety the Communist party submits this program as an appeal to reason, an appeal to the common sense of our fellow Americans. The crisis of our nation cannot be resolved by any one group alone. Therefore, we offer this program for the consideration of the working class and all Americans who are concerned with the welfare of our country."

"We are convinced that only the widest unity of the American people can avert the disaster of economic ruin, fascism and war . . ."

In a word, the Communist party, in peril of being ostracized if not outlawed, is seeking to develop a united front, headed by innocents and dupes, staffed by fellow-travelers and controlled by Communists.

The second point is that the Eisenhower administration is not representative of the American people. The draft program says:

"There is an even greater subordination of government to big business. The Eisenhower administration is an administration of, by and for big business. Corporate wealth—General Motors, U. S. Steel, Standard Oil and Du Pont—America's biggest, richest and greediest trusts, run the U. S. Government just as surely as they run their own corporations, and for the same end of ever more exorbitant profits."

The third point is the constant emphasis on the danger of war, which goes back to the pre-1939 program of the Communist party and was departed from only after the Stalin-Hitler alliance was broken:

"Powerful social forces are at work in the world that will not accept Wall Street dictation or domination. One third of mankind is emancipated from imperialist oppression and capitalist exploitation and has taken the path of socialism. The rise of the Soviet Union, its tremendous industrial and cultural advance, the victory of the Chinese people and the peoples of Eastern Europe, prove that socialism is here to stay and is indestructible."

Therefore, as socialism is inevitable, why resist? This is an old argument, used very effectively by the Communists in the 1930s. When the slogan was "The Yanks Are Not Coming," it was the same emphasis on the inevitability of the success of socialism and the ultimate failure of the United States.

The fourth point is the menace of McCarthyism, which is identified with fascism, anti-Semitism and anti-Negroism. It says:

"McCarthyism is on a rampage. It is trying to browbeat into submission every independent point of view, every thinking person. It burns books and destroys art and culture. It aims to smash the labor movement, to further enslave the Negro people, to stir up racism and anti-Semitism, to gag the young generation, and to wipe out all vestiges of liberty . . ."

This same argument was used against Charles Lindbergh, Herbert Hoover, Col. Robert R. McCormick and nearly every American who opposed the Communist party and the Stalin-Hitler pact. Despite the fact that no such fascist movement has developed in this country, it nevertheless arouses the fears of large numbers of persons who are more frightened by fascism than by communism. There are many such persons in the United States who can never forget the existence of Hitler and the consequences that arose therefrom.

This Communist program will add a new divisive factor in American life.

In Broad Daylight?

Threat Of War Brightens Chance For Peace In Asia

By David Lawrence

GENEVA—The United Nations may have to order the action permitting the United States and associated governments to take the military steps in Indochina that are necessary if Communist aggression in Southeast Asia is to be stopped immediately.

This procedure would be separate from what is contemplated in the Southeast Asia Security Treaty, which is designed for the long-range protection of the area and not for the current situation. The mere fact that this pact, too, is being planned now could buttress the United Nations' approach to the Indochina problem in the near future.

It will be recalled that President Truman felt that no congressional authorization was necessary to send American forces into Korea in June 1950—merely a notification to leaders of both parties in the Senate and House. The military operations that followed were held to be implicit in the treaty by which the United States had accepted the obligations of the United Nations charter.

French Hesitant

For a long time world opinion has been mobilized behind the thought that, if aggression occurs which threatens the territorial integrity of any country—that is, if there is a threat to peace anywhere—the members of the United Nations have a duty to collaborate in a collective action to remove the threat or to put down the aggression.

Certainly as of today there are aggressor armies in Laos and Cambodia, and these invaders come from Vietnam in the form of a Communist-led force known as the Vietminh. For many months the question has been asked why, with such an obvious case for United Nations action, no use has been made of the U. N. machinery. The truth is the French have been hesitant for fear it would raise more issues than it would settle. But this reasoning has been based on the idea that the controversy would deal with independence and colonialism only and prove embarrassing in North African disputes and might not win favor among Asian nations.

Now the situation has changed and the issue is no longer whether the three states of Indochina will cease to be colonies and become independent—for independence has been granted in the case of Cambodia and Laos and the final details for the independence of Vietnam are in process of being consummated. So the real issue is what happens to any states newly born when they try to live in a world of aggressors. Also, Thailand, which is a member of the United Nations, has been threatened and has a right to ask U. N. action.

Need Air And Sea Power

For many weeks now, as the Indochina question has been debated in Washington, the administration has made clear that it would not intervene alone in the Indochina crisis but would take military action only if the states or nations concerned wanted America to do so. The fact is that the French forces, together with the native troops, are adequate for the fight against the Communist armies, but there is a dire need for air and sea power, both of which the United States has available for immediate use in the Indochina area.

Already talks are going on among the major powers of the free world as to how best to use combined military forces in the Indochina War. This has been done for two reasons: first, the Communist delegates here must understand that they cannot refuse to agree to an armistice on terms which take the aggressor armies out of Cambodia and Laos and be immune from collective action, and, second, if the Geneva Conference is going to fail, there must be planned now an alternative policy to prevent a continuance of the aggression against the Indochina states.

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

The banana biters of the upstate Asian districts have modulated their temple bells to background music for the Monroe Doctrine.

Next to taxation without tyranny the Monroe Doctrine is our oldest recipe for instantaneous breakfast on hock-back.

We have always claimed the doctrine reached its brilliant zenith when Garcia carried Livingston to Newcastle.

It is now an item on a Tibetan prayer wheel. We can see trouble ahead using the hole in a doughnut for a telescope.

The principal opinion of the doctrine is the heel of the invader shall not do a toe-dance on the Western world.

Asia has slanted this ultimatum to its own optical chart and raised its five.

East is east and west is west and we're in the middle.

The Oriental Monroe Doctrine means that Ripley's promanaging Mongols will put on their hard hats and clip the tourist.

Our far-flung benevolence has released the Oriental from his oppressor. The result is he is as lonely as a borrowed pup.

Much Fatigue Is Due To Effects Of Emotional Stress

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

From 30 to 50 per cent of all fatigue is traceable to the exhausting effects of emotional stress. This is understandable, considering the fact that 25 per cent of our energy is used by the brain.

The housewife becomes fed up with dishes and housecleaning and the tired English teacher reaches the saturation point with themes, verbs, and dangling participles. These people are worn out even though their work may not be too difficult, and despite the fact that they get nine hours of sleep at night. But physicians hesitate to place weariness on a nervous basis without considering other causes.

Bill, who was always tired, became bright and alert when he took thyroid extract after the need for this hormone was detected. Helen responded to iron when her blood count showed she was anemic. George had infected tonsils and made a dramatic recovery subsequent to removal of these organs. But these results are not everyday occurrences. Eradicating tonsils, teeth, and other foci of infection was the recommended procedure in the past as a cure-all for fatigue. We now know that infections of this nature are not always responsible.

Anemia is regarded as a common cause but seldom is to blame unless the blood count is low. The use of thyroid also is taboo unless metabolism is abnormal. When the reading is borderline, thyroid may be ineffective and in some instances, the situation is made worse. Many an individual with pulmonary tuberculosis consulted his physician originally because he felt worn out or was losing weight. Poor circulation may produce a sensation of local tiredness in areas devoid of blood, such as the legs. Too little sugar in the blood (hypoglycemia) is suspected when that all-gone feeling occurs three to four hours after eating. These people will perk up after a cup of tea or coffee with sugar and cream, a candy bar, or a cookie because the refreshment raises the blood sugar level.

Overwork and lack of sleep probably are the most prevalent causes but often such obvious factors are overlooked. When a person assumes additional duties gradually, he may not realize how fatigued he is unless a mishap takes the mistake of forcing his affection on a Swiss maid in the shadow of the Matterhorn. "One more false move," she finally warned him, "and I'll yodel!"

Secretary Hobby Reverses Her Stand On New School Construction Measure

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—There has been a backstage hassle inside the administration over the badly needed federal program to promote construction of new schools.

Sam Brownell, commissioner of education and brother of Attorney General Brownell, is for the school construction bill, but he's been stopped dead in his tracks—largely by the baby member of the Eisenhower sub-cabinet, 27-year-old assistant secretary of health, education and welfare, Roswell Perkins. Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary for HEW, is also against the school bill.

However, it looks as if the Senate would pass the bill anyway.

Here is what has happened. About three weeks ago Secretary Hobby testified before the Senate Labor and Education Committee that she favored the principle of school building construction, but wanted further conferences before it was undertaken. Specifically, she wanted one conference in each of the 48 states, plus one big final conference at the White House.

To this, Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, long-time champion of federal aid to schools, objected. "There have already been seven national conferences on this question," he said in brief. "The conferences even began with the Hoover administration. Seven million dollars have already been spent on a school survey. Meanwhile our schools are more and more overcrowded. So it seems to me this is a time for action, not talk. The Eisenhower administration," said Hill, "made a specific pledge to help the schools, and this is the time to do it."

Sen. John Cooper of Kentucky,

Republican, agreed, and as a result the Senate committee went ahead with hearings on a bill authorizing federal aid to school construction.

Sam Brownell Muzzled

Lead-off witness at the hearings was to have been Education Commissioner Brownell. He had previously announced that there was a national shortage of 340,000 classrooms. And his staff worked late at night preparing his testimony for the Senate committee.

But just before he was scheduled to testify, Brownell phoned Chairman Cooper to say he could not appear. He had received blunt orders from Mrs. Hobby that he could make no statement.

Actually it was bright, young Assistant Secretary Roswell Perkins who was behind Mrs. Hobby's action. He had written a report, which went to the Senate over Mrs. Hobby's signature, opposing federal aid for school construction—even though she had previously stated that there is a $5,000,000,000 backlog of school construction.

The Senate committee, however, is proceeding with the bill.

NOTE—President Eisenhower during the 1952 elections said of school construction: "The American answer is to do in this field what we have been doing for a long time (with highway and hospital construction)."

A-Bombs In Asia?

The Air Force is now prepared for a momentous step. Faced with growing Communist aggression in the Far East, the Air Force has notified the White House that it is prepared to bomb any place in the world, including Indochina.

Furthermore, there is growing sentiment inside the Air Force for the use of atomic bombs in Indochina.

These two capabilities are extremely important because, among other things, they represent a change in Air Force point of view. Hitherto, Gen. Nat. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, had opposed Admiral Radford's recommendation that the Air Force be used in Indochina. And though still opposed, he has reported that the Air Force is ready to act as outlined above.

There have also been other changes in the viewpoints of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. And the Army, which is dead set against having an expeditionary force get bogged down in the Far East, now backs the idea of bombing operations and is willing to use land troops to protect air and naval bases.

Reason for this change is significant. It is induced by apparent Communist determination to push ahead in Southeast Asia plus the realization that in two years Russia could meet the challenge of American air power. Today she can't.

Russia Can Catch Up

Today the United States has a powerful-striking force of long-range, B-47 jet bombers unmatched by Russia. This is in addition to our high-flying B-36 turbo-jet bombers. As a result, Russia is in no position to trade atomic blows with the United States—now. But two years from now she will be. She will have enough jet bombers and possibly an atomic stockpile as big as ours.

The all-important question of whether atomic bombs should be used in the Far East now rests largely in the hands of the State Department. The armed services have given their okay.

During the siege of Dien Bien Phu, the White House asked the Pentagon what could be done to break up the attack, to which the Navy and Air Force recommended dropping tactical A-bombs on the ring of red guerrillas massed around the fortress.

This not only would have saved the fortress, but would have forced the Chinese Communist to do one of two things: 1, leave Indochina altogether; or 2 call on Russia for help.

The Air Force was willing to take the calculated risk that the Kremlin would avoid an atomic showdown with the United States this time.

State Department Veto

However, the State Department said no. It argued that 1, our Western allies would desert us; 2, the huge populations of Asia would turn irrevocably against us. American hatred would sweep all Asia, the State Department argued.

The Air Force replied that the A-bomb is much more human than the napalm fire jelly with which we have been splashing enemy troops in Korea and Indochina. The State Department, however, prevailed.

U. S. Nearer To War

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The public confusion about American policy is so great that hardly anyone seems to have noticed we are a long step nearer to intervention in the Indochinese War.

What has happened sounds innocuous. On Wednesday of last week, Ambassador Henri Bonnet informed the State Department that the French government would now like to discuss "internationalizing" the war. For practical purposes, that means the French now want to find out whether the United States will enter the war, and on what terms.

This is a wholly new development. In the last desperate weeks, the French have twice asked for what may be called one-shot intervention, in the form of American air strikes to relieve Dien Bien Phu. These two requests were rejected, although the second would have been granted if the British had gone along.

What is now under discussion is no one-shot intervention, but full-scale, permanent American involvement in the war. Furthermore, the discussion is anything but academic.

Over a month ago, the National Security Council took a firm decision to enter the Indochinese War if this were necessary to save Indochina from Communism. American policy, although falsely attacked as inconsistent, has not changed since then. Unless there is a last minute loss of will, only two conditions must be met for the Eisenhower administration to make a final commitment to France.

"United Action" Still Holds

First, steps must be taken to still the cry that this is a colonial war. The French have in fact now made a grant of substantive independence to the Indochinese peoples. The need here is to find a way to emphasize and indeed dramatize this grant of independence, without offending French opinion.

Second, there must be "united action." Secretary of State John Foster Dulles began to call for this immediately after the security council decision. It is still settled that we shall not act alone.

Thus far, the British government has been the main stumbling block in the way of united action.

The British, though, have seen the impossibility of any kind of Indochinese settlement except frank, outright surrender to the Communist. Because of this, they have shown some signs of renewed interest in the united action idea. As a kind of first installment, talks about Indochina are to be started with the French, British, Americans, Australians and New Zealanders sitting in, and the Asian governments being kept informed.

Many Complex Problems

Despite this, it is still doubtful whether, in the long run, the British will agree to join the party. But it is no longer at all certain that the security council will be content to give the British the same veto power they enjoyed in the question of Dien Bien Phu air strike.

There can be more limited united action leaving out the British, but including the Indochinese associated states, the French, the Philippines, Thailand and this country. This plan is understood to be favored by a strong security council faction, reportedly headed by Vice President Richard Nixon and Admiral Arthur Radford.

There the matter stands. Of course, the French are not asking us to come into the war now in the discussions about internationalizing the war. First of all, they only want to strengthen their hands in the Geneva talks. Second, but more important, they want to be sure we will be ready to aid France if Geneva produces no settlement.

Maybe the shaky French government will fall, and be replaced by a government of surrender. Maybe the position in Indochina will deteriorate past saving. Maybe the Soviets and Chinese will take a warning from this new development, and order their Viet Minh puppets to offer an Indochinese settlement the French can reasonably accept. But if none of these things happen and the two American conditions are successfully met, it is now the agreed policy of the American government to join the Indochina War.

It is hard to weigh all the complex possibilities, which should also include a fatal Franco-American disagreement about command arrangements in Indochina. Yet it seems roughly right to say there is now one chance in three of the White House asking Congress for authority to enter the war at some time in the next month or six weeks.

TVA Chairmanship Becomes Vacant

The chairmanship of the Tennessee Valley Authority requires "the highest kind of professional competence," according to President Eisenhower; he promised (May 5) that there would be "no politics" in his forthcoming appointment. The TVA law specifically forbids the appointment of officials on a political basis. The oath taken by the chairman requires a statement of belief in the "wisdom and feasibility" of the project.

Backers of TVA have been championing the present chairman, Gordon Clapp, for reappointment. His term expires today. On March 16 a delegation presented to the President a petition bearing the signatures of 60,000 residents of the valley urging retention of Clapp. However, Senator Cooper (R., Ky.) has opposed Clapp's reappointment. Cooper is a staunch supporter of the Eisenhower program in the Senate. He faces a difficult campaign in Kentucky this year.

Cooper concedes that Clapp has been above partisan politics. "My chief criticism of the present management," he has said, "is that it does not suggest, explore, or attempt to help Congress and TVA with alternatives for continued full federal support for the development."

Senator Cooper is reported to have sidetracked the candidacy of Harry C. Carbaugh of Chattanooga, a former vice chairman of the Republican National Finance Committee, for the TVA chairmanship. The name of Brig. Gen. Robert R. Neyland Jr., athletic director of the University of Tennessee, has been prominently mentioned for the job. A retired Army engineer, Neyland was graduated from West Point a year behind President Eisenhower. In recent months he has been in ill health. Other possible nominees are Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, wartime head of the atom bomb project, and Roger B. McWhorter, chief engineer of the Federal Power Commission at Riverton,

The New Program

The Communist party of the United States has issued a new program which is entitled "The American Way." They are circulating this as a draft program inviting discussion and criticism. If read without background, this document does not quite make sense, but related to the history of the party and the general attitude of the Kremlin, it is indicative of continued vitality and a new aggressive attitude.

The first point in the draft program calls for a renewal of united front activities. The most successful united front in the history of the Communist party was the League Against War and Fascism (the League for Peace and Democracy), which, at one time, reached a membership of 4,000,000. It was the greatest achievement of the leadership of Earl Browder. Many who joined it did not know that it was a Communist front organization. Under the battering of congressional committees, many united front organizations were destroyed. This was supplemented by the attorney general's list, which became a determining factor in pin-pointing these organizations.

Now the draft program calls for a renewal of united front activities. It says:

"At a time of great national fear and anxiety the Communist party submits this program as an appeal to reason, an appeal to the common sense of our fellow Americans. The crisis of our nation cannot be resolved by any one group alone. Therefore, we offer this program for the consideration of the working class and all Americans who are concerned with the welfare of our country."

"We are convinced that only the widest unity of the American people can avert the disaster of economic ruin, fascism and war . . ."

In a word, the Communist party, in peril of being ostracized if not outlawed, is seeking to develop a united front, headed by innocents and dupes, staffed by fellow-travelers and controlled by Communists.

The second point is that the Eisenhower administration is not representative of the American people. The draft program says:

"There is an even greater subordination of government to big business. The Eisenhower administration is an administration of, by and for big business. Corporate wealth—General Motors, U. S. Steel, Standard Oil and Du Pont—America's biggest, richest and greediest trusts, run the U. S. Government just as surely as they run their own corporations, and for the same end of ever more exorbitant profits."

The third point is the constant emphasis on the danger of war, which goes back to the pre-1939 program of the Communist party and was departed from only after the Stalin-Hitler alliance was broken:

"Powerful social forces are at work in the world that will not accept Wall Street dictation or domination. One third of mankind is emancipated from imperialist oppression and capitalist exploitation and has taken the path of socialism. The rise of the Soviet Union, its tremendous industrial and cultural advance, the victory of the Chinese people and the peoples of Eastern Europe, prove that socialism is here to stay and is indestructible."

Therefore, as socialism is inevitable, why resist? This is an old argument, used very effectively by the Communists in the 1930s. When the slogan was "The Yanks Are Not Coming," it was the same emphasis on the inevitability of the success of socialism and the ultimate failure of the United States.

The fourth point is the menace of McCarthyism, which is identified with fascism, anti-Semitism and anti-Negroism. It says:

"McCarthyism is on a rampage. It is trying to browbeat into submission every independent point of view, every thinking person. It burns books and destroys art and culture. It aims to smash the labor movement, to further enslave the Negro people, to stir up racism and anti-Semitism, to gag the young generation, and to wipe out all vestiges of liberty . . ."

This same argument was used against Charles Lindbergh, Herbert Hoover, Col. Robert R. McCormick and nearly every American who opposed the Communist party and the Stalin-Hitler pact. Despite the fact that no such fascistic movement has developed in this country, it nevertheless arouses the fears of large numbers of persons who are more frightened by fascism than by communism. There are many such persons in the United States who can never forget the existence of Hitler and the consequences that arose therefrom.

This Communist program will add a new divisive factor in American life.

In Broad Daylight?

Threat Of War Brightens Chance For Peace In Asia

By David Lawrence

GENEVA—The United Nations may have to order the action permitting the United States and associated governments to take the military steps in Indochina that are necessary if Communist aggression in Southeast Asia is to be stopped immediately.

This procedure would be separate from what is contemplated in the Southeast Asia Security Treaty, which is designed for the long-range protection of the area and not for the current situation. The mere fact that this pact, too, is being planned now could buttress the United Nations' approach to the Indochina problem in the near future.

It will be recalled that President Truman felt that no congressional authorization was necessary to send American forces into Korea in June 1950—merely a notification to leaders of both parties in the Senate and House. The military operations that followed were held to be implicit in the treaty by which the United States had accepted the obligations of the United Nations charter.

French Hesitant

For a long time world opinion has been mobilized behind the thought that, if aggression occurs which threatens the territorial integrity of any country—that is, if there is a threat to peace anywhere—the members of the United Nations have a duty to collaborate in a collective action to remove the threat or to put down the aggression.

Certainly as of today there are aggressor armies in Laos and Cambodia, and these invaders come from Vietnam in the form of a Communist-led force known as the Vietminh. For many months the question has been asked why, with such an obvious case for United Nations action, no use has been made of the U. N. machinery. The truth is the French have been hesitant for fear it would raise more issues than it would settle. But this reasoning has been based on the idea that the controversy would deal with independence and colonialism only and prove embarrassing in North African disputes and might not win favor among Asian nations.

Now the situation has changed and the issue is no longer whether the three states of Indochina will cease to be colonies and become independent—for independence has been granted in the case of Cambodia and Laos and the final details for the independence of Vietnam are in process of being consummated. So the real issue is what happens to any states newly born when they try to live in a world of aggressors. Also, Thailand, which is a member of the United Nations, has been threatened and has a right to ask U. N. action.

Need Air And Sea Power

For many weeks now, as the Indochina question has been debated in Washington, the administration has made clear that it would not intervene alone in the Indochina crisis but would take military action only if the states or nations concerned wanted America to do so. The fact is that the French forces, together with the native troops, are adequate for the fight against the Communist armies, but there is a dire need for air and sea power, both of which the United States has available for immediate use in the Indochina area.

Already talks are going on among the major powers of the free world as to how best to use combined military forces in the Indochina War. This has been done for two reasons: first, the Communist delegates here must understand that they cannot refuse to agree to an armistice on terms which take the aggressor armies out of Cambodia and Laos and be immune from collective action, and second, if the Geneva Conference is going to fail, there must be planned now an alternative policy to prevent a continuance of the aggression against the Indochina states.

Much Fatigue Is Due To Effects Of Emotional Stress

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

From 30 to 50 per cent of all fatigue is traceable to the exhausting effects of emotional stress. This is understandable, considering the fact that 25 per cent of our energy is used by the brain.

The housewife becomes fed up with dishes and housecleaning and the tired English teacher reaches the saturation point with themes, verbs, and dangling participles. These people are worn out even though their work may not be too difficult, and despite the fact that they get nine hours of sleep at night. But physicians hesitate to place weariness on a nervous basis without considering other causes.

Bill, who was always tired, became bright and alert when he took thyroid extract after the need for this hormone was detected. Helen responded to iron when her blood count showed she was anemic. George had infected tonsils and made a dramatic recovery subsequent to removal of these organs. But these results are not everyday occurrences. Eradicating tonsils, teeth, and other foci of infection was the recommended procedure in the past as a cure-all for fatigue. We now know that infections of this nature are not always responsible.

Anemia is regarded as a common cause but seldom is to blame unless the blood count is low. The use of thyroid also is taboo unless metabolism is abnormal. When the reading is borderline, thyroid may be ineffective and in some instances, the situation is made worse. Many an individual with pulmonary tuberculosis consulted his physician originally because he felt worn out or was losing weight. Poor circulation may produce a sensation of local tiredness in areas devoid of blood, such as the legs. Too little sugar in the blood (hypoglycemia) is suspected when that all-gone feeling occurs three to four hours after eating. These people will perk up after a cup of tea or coffee with sugar and cream, a candy bar, or a cookie because the refreshment raises the blood sugar level.

Overwork and lack of sleep probably are the most prevalent causes but often such obvious factors are overlooked. When a person assumes additional duties gradually, he may not realize how fatigued he is unless a mishap takes

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

George Heister found this effective little anecdote in a back page of the Alabama Baptist: Lee Sharpe was just a kid when his father let him come along to old man Trussell's backsmith shop. He had left a hoe and rake to be repaired, and now they were ready, fixed like new. Lee's father handed over a silver dollar for a job well done, but old man Trussell would have no part of it. When Mr. Sharpe insisted, the smithie said, "Now, now, Ed; can't you let a man do something now and then to stretch his soul?"

"I'll never forget that quiet line," asserts Lee Sharpe. "It's caused me to find, again and again, the great joy and quiet happiness that comes from an occasional 'stretching of the soul.'"

Secretary Hobby Reverses Her Stand On New School Construction Measure

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—There has been a backstage hassle inside the administration over the badly needed federal program to promote construction of new schools.

Sam Brownell, commissioner of education and brother of Attorney General Brownell, is for the school construction bill, but he's been stopped dead in his tracks—largely by the baby member of the Eisenhower sub-cabinet, 27-year-old assistant secretary of health, education and welfare, Roswell Perkins. Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary for HEW, is also against the school bill.

However, it looks as if the Senate would pass the bill anyway. Here is what has happened.

About three weeks ago Secretary Hobby testified before the Senate Labor and Education Committee that she favored the principle of school building construction, but wanted further conferences before it was undertaken. Specifically she wanted one conference in each of the 48 states, plus one big final conference at the White House.

To this, Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, long-time champion of federal aid to schools, objected.

"There have already been seven national conferences on this question," he said in brief. "The conferences even began with the Hoover administration. Seven million dollars have already been spent on a school survey. Meanwhile our schools are more and more overcrowded. So it seems to me this is a time for action, not talk. The Eisenhower administration," said Hill, "made a specific pledge to help the schools, and this is the time to do it."

Sen. John Cooper of Kentucky,

Republican, agreed, and as a result the Senate committee went ahead with hearings on a bill authorizing federal aid to school construction.

Sam Brownell Muzzled

Lead-off witness at the hearings was to have been Education Commissioner Brownell. He had previously announced that there was a national shortage of 340,000 classrooms. And his staff worked late at night preparing his testimony for the Senate committee.

But just before he was scheduled to testify, Brownell phoned Chairman Cooper to say he could not appear. He had received blunt orders from Mrs. Hobby that he could make no statement.

Actually it was bright, young Assistant Secretary Roswell Perkins who was behind Mrs. Hobby's action. He had written a report, which went to the Senate over Mrs. Hobby's signature, opposing federal aid for school construction—even though she had previously stated that there is a $5,000,000,000 backlog of school construction.

The Senate committee, however, is proceeding with the bill.

NOTE—President Eisenhower during the 1952 elections said of school construction: "The American answer is to do in this field what we have been doing for a long time (with highway and hospital construction)."

A-Bombs In Asia?

The Air Force is now prepared for a momentous step. Faced with growing Communist aggression in the Far East, the Air Force has notified the White House that it is prepared to bomb any place in the world, including Indochina.

Furthermore, there is growing sentiment inside the Air Force for the use of atomic bombs in Indochina.

These two capabilities are extremely important because, among other things, they represent a change in Air Force point of view. Hitherto, Gen. Nate Twining, Air Force chief of staff, had opposed Admiral Radford's recommendation that the Air Force be used in Indochina. And though still opposed, he has reported that the Air Force is ready to act as outlined above.

There have also been other changes in the viewpoints of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. And the Army, Coach Augie Eichhorn's Bruce High School swatmen slammed the offerings of three pitchers for 13 hits to defeat Fort Hill yesterday at Westernport and knocked the Sentinels out of the runner-up position in the Bi-State Interscholastic Conference. The score was 10-4.

Prior to yesterday's game no league opponent had scored more than five runs against Coach "Borby" Cavanaugh's aggregation. The seaback was the second in a row for the Sentinels and their third loss in the last four outings.

Clem Bats In Five Runs

Marvin Clem was the Bulldogs' big hitter with four singles in four trips and five runs-batted-in. Shortstop Mike Nofsinger has three safeties to his credit. Bruce scored nine of its 10 runs in the third and fourth innings.

Clem's four-for-four moved him into first place in the Bi-State batting race with an average of .538. He has collected 14 hits in 26 trips to the plate.

While the Bulldogs were teeing off on Murray, Atkey and Markley, Dave Marple, ace center of Bruce's Class "B" championship basketball team, was limiting the Sentinels to four hits and mowing down 11 via the strikeline route.

The victory enabled the Westernport team to tie Fort Hill for third place in the league standings.

Bruce is scheduled to play LaSalle's league leaders today at Penn Avenue Field at 4 o'clock. Donnie Wilkinson, freshmen star, with a 4-0 record, is slated to hurl for the visitors. Roberts or Nolan will be on the firing line for the Explorers.

Dawson Posts Fifth Win

Allegany High moved into second place by taking Beall High into camp yesterday in Frostburg by the score of 8-2.

Bobby Dawson went all the way for the Campers to register his fifth win against a single loss. He yielded six hits, issued only two passes and struck out seven.

Harry Iser and Jim Hoffman shared four of Allegany's blows with one of the former's blows was a homer. Iser and Eddie Joyce batted in five of the winner's runs. Mike Finn clouted a round-tripper for Beall. The loss was the eighth in 11 starts for the co-champions of 1953.

Flintstone suffered its 10th defeat at the hands of Mt. Savage High School, 12-2.

Ira Watkins and Jack Boot sparked Coach John Thomas' team at the plate, leading the 11-hit assault on Fletcher and Lough with three blows each.

Loses No-Hitter in 7th
Bobby Blank had a no-hitter going into the final frame when Morris tripled and Fletcher singled for the Aggies. The Mt. Savage hurler fanned 12 and notched his fourth win against three losses.

Sophomores Receive Ability Test Results

FROSTBURG — Sophomores of State Teachers College at Frostburg recently received results of the 1954 National College Testing Program which they took in March.

The tests measured the ability of the student to read and use English, the student's background in general culture, and his understanding of contemporary affairs. The scores are to help individuals understand their own abilities and interests as compared with those of other college sophomores. Thus, by noting whether their scores are high or low in their chosen field, they will be able to decide upon their further course of study.

Students first rated themselves in each section according to their knowledge of past test results, and according to their own objective evaluation of their abilities. Then they compared this with the actual test results.

The test was administered by William C. Van Newkirk, psychology instructor, and by students of the Test and Measurements class.

Keyser Woman Reports Attack To Authorities

KEYSER — Authorities are investigating an attack on a local woman, reported to have taken place Sunday midnight and from which she was unconscious for nearly two hours.

Mrs. Rhoda Keenely, 206 West Piedmont Street, called police at 2 a. m. today after recovering from the attack, which she told the investigating officer, Patrolman Harry Stewart, occurred around midnight.

Mrs. Keenely, who suffered bruises and scratches of the arm and other minor injuries, told Officer Stewart she found the back door of her home unlocked when she returned from visiting friends. She explained that she thought she had forgotten to lock it when she left home yesterday evening.

On entering the front room of the house, she said she was grabbed by an unidentified assailant and either fainted while struggling with the party or else was knocked unconscious by a blow on the right side of her head — the last thing she remembered.

Officer Stewart searched the house and yard, but could find no trace of the assailant. A small sum of money was missing from a stand in the hall of the home, but a larger amount hidden in a desk was not found by the intruder.

Officer Stewart said a tape measure had been tightly wound around Mrs. Keenely's neck by her assailant, but not tightly enough to choke her.

Primary Election Unnecessary At Keyser, W. Va.

KEYSER — There will not be a primary election in Keyser this year for nomination of candidates for council as there are only three candidates named for the offices. The two incumbents, Lester Oates and Paul Peters filed their petitions for re-election, and E. T. Kessel, South Main Street has filed for either of the offices as a new candidate. No others may file this year, as the final date for giving notice of candidacy expired at noon last Saturday.

Had there been two other candidates it would have been necessary to conduct a primary election on Tuesday, May 25.

Sophomores Receive Ability Test Results

FROSTBURG — Sophomores of State Teachers College at Frostburg recently received results of the 1954 National College Testing Program which they took in March.

The tests measured the ability of the student to read and use English, the student's background in general culture, and his understanding of contemporary affairs. The scores are to help individuals understand their own abilities and interests as compared with those of other college sophomores. Thus by noting whether their scores are high or low in their chosen field, they will be able to decide upon their further causes of study.

Students first rated themselves in each section according to their knowledge of past test results, and according to their own objective evaluation of their abilities. Then they compared this with the actual test result.

The test was administered by William C. Van Newkirk, psychology instructor, and by students of the Test and Measurements class.

Keyser Woman Reports Attack To Authorities

To Be Staged As Curtain Fund Benefit

KEYSER — Authorities are investigating an attack on a local woman, reported to have taken place Sunday midnight and from which she was unconscious for nearly two hours.

Mrs. Rhoda Kenealy, 206 West Piedmont Street, called police at 2 a. m. today after recovering from the attack, which she told the investigating officer, Patrolman Harry Stewart, occurred around midnight.

Mrs. Kenealy, who suffered bruises and scratches of the arm and other minor injuries, told Officer Stewart she found the back door of her home unlocked when she returned from visiting friends. She explained that she thought she had forgotten to lock it when she left home yesterday evening.

On entering the front room of the house, she said she was grabbed by an unidentified assailant and either faintly while struggling with the party or else was knocked unconscious by a blow on the right side of her head — the last thing she remembered.

Officer Stewart searched the house and yard, but could find no trace of the assailant. A small sum of money was missing from a stand in the hall of the home, but a larger amount hidden in a desk was not found by the intruder.

Officer Stewart said a tape measure had been tightly wound around Mrs. Kenealy's neck by her assailant, but not tightly enough to choke her.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

County Plans No Change In Segregation

Board Of Education To Do As State Asks

Allegany County public school officials said yesterday the county would go along with the state in any move that is made following the Supreme Court's momentous decision banning segregation in public schools.

"However," Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools, said, "I expect no drastic moves to be made or any abrupt change-over. There are too many problems on a local level in such a situation."

The supervisor continued, "we have no real problem with the Negro here in Allegany County and I am certain whatever the outcome it will be worked out satisfactorily."

"I had felt the Supreme Court might say it had jurisdiction in banning segregation in the schools since education is for the most part a state institution but since they have ruled we will do whatever we can in the matter," he concluded.

Webster Not Available

Earle L. Bracey, principal of Carver School, Cumberland's colored institution, had said in the past when asked what the colored people in Cumberland would do if segregation were banned, "I cannot speak for the entire Negro population because each is an individual in his own right and will decide what he wants as an individual."

Carver has been expanding its program in the past few years and now has many individual student organizations representative of the school, such as orchestras, glee clubs, dramatic clubs and others. Whether these will be broken up and incorporated in white school organizations at present is problematical.

The physical facilities at the Frederick Street school are being improved this spring at a cost of over $200,000. A new combination auditorium-gymnasium and new shop and home economics facilities are being constructed.

All told between 270 and 280 Negro students in the county's two schools, Carver and Lincoln, would be involved.

The Supreme Court's decision said segregation is unconstitutional because it violates the constitutional guarantee of equal protection of the laws. However a formal decree ordering it stopped will be postponed until after arguments on special points are heard at the fall term.

Gov. McKeldin said today he is confident the transition to non-segregated schools in Maryland can be brought about "without confusion and without undue delay."

Will Confer With Pullen Speaking of the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in public schools, McKeldin said:

"Maryland prides itself upon being a law abiding state and I am sure our citizens and our officials will accept readily the United States Supreme Court's interpretation of our fundamental law."

The governor said he will confer with Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools and other officials involved in the question, "and I am confident the transition can be brought about in Maryland without confusion and without undue delay."

Dr. Pullen, meanwhile, said he could foresee "no immediate, drastic changes" in Maryland as a result of the Supreme Court decision. He pictured instead a gradual transition to interracial schools "wherever the question comes up."

Firebrick Plant In Garrett Sold

Harbison-Walker Refractories Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., has purchased the Union Firebrick Company's Jennings plant in Garrett County for an undisclosed sum reported in the millions.

The Garrett County concern has been manufacturing firebrick from clay and other materials for the past eight years since the Jennings plant was built in 1946.

Also reportedly included in the deal was some fire clay property at Obiopolis, Pa.

Meanwhile work is continuing at the Jennings plant while negotiations are being completed on the purchase. Officials of the new concern have not indicated what plans they have for the firebrick plant.

Green Annan, Pittsburgh, Pa., is president of the Union Firebrick Company and C. I. Young is plant superintendent at Jennings.

Young said last night officials of the two concerns had no comment to make on the negotiations until they are completed when the Pittsburgh concern will release the information.

City Registration Books Show 15,070 Eligible Voters

A total of 15,070 citizens of Cumberland are eligible to cast ballots in the June 1 primary and June 15 municipal election, according to Mrs. Ruth Mangus, city registration clerk.

The official count was announced yesterday as books were being prepared for the elections.

City Sewage Disposal Set If Plant Comes Here

The Mayor and Council yesterday moved for a postponement of a hearing on a State Board of Health edict ordering construction of a sewage plant in view of the promise such a facility will be constructed within two years to meet requirements of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, if the firm gives assurance it will locate a plant here.

In a resolution approved yesterday morning, council asked that the Circuit Court hearing on the sewage disposal plant be postponed, and added that upon assurance from Pittsburgh Plate that it would build a plant at Mexico Farms where it has purchased property, the city will take steps for immediate construction of a facility to be completed within two years.

In two meetings with Pittsburgh Plate officials here last week, city officials had been told the sewage treatment plant is a necessity to the firm since impurities exceed the maximum allowed in water used in manufacturing processes. Finan Seeks Postponement

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan was authorized to seek postponement of the hearing already delayed temporarily until June 21 and 22. The State Board of Health meets May 21 and the resolution is expected to be acted upon at that time.

The order from the state agency to Cumberland was given to a previous administration which, in turn, sought an injunction against the action because it contended communities above Cumberland would continue to pollute the Potomac river and the plant would only benefit that section of the stream below Cumberland.

For Cumberland Only Mayor Roy W. Eves pointed out that the city proposes to build a $2,000,000 plant which is designed to care for the needs of Cumberland only through 1970, an estimate based upon population trends.

He added, however, that the city has plans prepared, ground select-

Carroll Street, Mrs. Merritt said. She explained that the glass shattered in an artistic pattern as if the entire surface had been struck with a hammer or some other heavy object.

Briefs Filed In Phone Co. Rate Raise

Opposition Urges New Approach

BALTIMORE, May 17 (AP)—Briefs for and against higher telephone rates in Maryland were filed with the state Public Service Commission today.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. asked for an additional three cents per day per telephone. The firm contended it needs the additional revenue to maintain its financial standing and to meet increasing demands for service.

The opposition, headed by People's Counsel Joseph Allen and H. Donald Schwab, assistant Baltimore city solicitor, urged a new approach to the situation.

They called for an examination of the financial condition of the local telephone firm's parent organization, The American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The opposing brief argued that the C. and P. is doing quite well, and after paying operating costs, taxes, interest on debt and dividends on 85 per cent of its capital structure to the parent firm, has still more than trebled its surplus in the last seven years.

Schwab and Allen took note of the fact that the phone company has filed three rate increase applications in as many years and urged recognition of the "real applicant in this case," the A. T. & T. "When the C. and P. sheds its tears and cries for more money, it is the A. T. & T. that wants it," the opposition brief said.

Driver Charged In Freak Mishap On Route 46

A hazardous driving charge was lodged against Burt H. Mangold, 59, RFD 2, Keyser, by West Virginia State Police yesterday.

Mangold was the driver of a car which turned a forward "somersault" in a steep hill on W. Va. Route 46 near Keyser Sunday night.

Cpl. F. H. Tribett, of the State Police detachment at Keyser, who investigated, said the vehicle was descending a hill when the front wheels of the machine locked and the car turned a forward "somersault," landed right-side-up and continued on a short way before Mangold brought it to a stop.

The driver's wife, Mrs. Dorothy Mangold, 49, was treated at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, for minor hand and leg injuries. Mangold and two young children escaped injury.

Damage to the car was slight, Cpl. Tribett said.

State Accident Suit Filed Here

A $1,513.79 damage suit was filed in Allegany County Circuit Court in behalf of the State of Maryland to the use of the State Accident Fund.

Defendant in the suit was Lillian Walker of Middlethian.

In the declaration, signed by four attorneys for the state, Edward D. E. Rollins, attorney general; Harry A. Cole and Philip T. McCusker, special attorneys, and Earl E. Manges, local counsel, it is charged that the defendant applied to the state for insurance covering her liability under provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Law of Maryland on October 5, 1950.

The Middlethian woman was issued a policy, it being understood and agreed that she would pay the charges as set by the state. She has been instructed that the premium charge is $1,513.79 but has failed to make payment, the declaration contends.

The Supreme Court's decision said segregation is unconstitutional because it violates the constitutional guarantee of equal protection of the laws. However a formal decree ordering it stopped will be postponed until after arguments on special points are heard at the fall term.

Gov. McKeldin said today he is confident the transition to non-segregated schools in Maryland can be brought about "without confusion and without undue delay."

Will Confer With Pullen

Speaking of the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in public schools, McKeldin said:

"Maryland prides itself upon being a law abiding state and I am sure our citizens and our officials will accept readily the United States Supreme Court's interpretation of our fundamental law."

The governor said he will confer with Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools and other officials involved in the question, "and I am confident the transition can be brought about in Maryland without confusion and without undue delay."

Dr. Pullen, meanwhile, said he could foresee "no immediate, drastic changes" in Maryland as a result of the Supreme Court decision. He pictured instead a gradual transition to interracial schools "wherever the question comes up."

Briefs Filed In Phone Co. Rate Raise

Opposition Urges New Approach

BALTIMORE, May 17 (AP)—Briefs for and against higher telephone rates in Maryland were filed with the state Public Service Commission today.

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. asked for an additional three cents per day per telephone. The firm contended it needs the additional revenue to maintain its financial standing and to meet increasing demands for service.

The opposition, headed by People's Counsel Joseph Allen and H. Donald Schwab, assistant Baltimore city solicitor, urged a new approach to the situation.

They called for an examination of the financial condition of the local telephone firm's parent organization, The American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The opposing brief argued that the C. and P. is doing quite well, and after paying operating costs, taxes, interest on debt and dividends on 85 per cent of its capital structure to the parent firm, has still more than trebled its surplus in the last seven years.

Schwab and Allen took note of the fact that the "phone company has filed three rate increase applications in as many years and urged recognition of the "real applicant in this case," the A. T. & T. "When the C. and P. sheds its tears and cries for more money, it is the A. T. & T. that wants it," the opposition brief said.

Three Oakland Youths Held In Warehouse Fire

Considerable Damage Done To SRC Vehicles

Three Oakland youths, 18 to 22, are being held in Garrett County Jail pending a hearing today in Trial Magistrate's Court following a fire late Sunday night which caused considerable damage to a State Roads Commission warehouse in Oakland.

Sheriff Paul W. Fisher said the three boys admitted being in the warehouse at the time the blaze began, adding that one of the trio called in the alarm before the youths became panicky and ran.

G. Bates Chaires, district superintendent of the State Roads Commission, praised the prompt work of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Company "which undoubtedly saved many thousands of dollars worth of heavy equipment in the building."

Trucks Damaged

Chaires said a 7½ ton truck, costing over $12,000, another large truck with an air compressor and three smaller 2½ ton trucks were stored in the building along with many roads signs, tools and other equipment.

No estimate was put on the damage "which was in the thousands and covered by insurance," Chaires stated, "but the large truck was badly damaged as were most of the other vehicles. Some of the signs were damaged and many of the smaller tools also were in the blaze," Chaires added.

Sheriff Fisher said about 25 volunteers responded to the alarm about 11 p. m. EST Sunday. They removed most of the heavier equipment from the two-story frame warehouse and extinguished the fire in about an hour.

Siphoning Planned

Investigation indicated the three young Oaklanders had entered the warehouse possibly to siphon gasoline from the truck tanks. While in the building the fire started from a spark or when one of the youths lighted a cigaret, Fisher said. They fled after sounding the alarm.

Firemen found the building ablaze from spilled gasoline but were able to extinguish the fire before the roof collapsed.

Garrett County State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover said the three are being held in the County Jail pending a hearing at 10 a. m. today. He added charges would be placed against the trio at that time.

Sheriff Fisher said he picked up one of the youths about 11 a. m. yesterday and the other two later in the afternoon. They were questioned yesterday in the sheriff's office.

Authorities said numerous complaints had been received in the past three or four months of damage to county and state roads heavy equipment in Garrett County with the siphoning of gas from many of the heavy vehicles.

See Sentences Man In Liquor Store Burglary

Douglas White, alias Douglas John Jones, was sentenced to a term of from one to ten years in the West Virginia Penitentiary by Judge Ernest A. See in Mineral County Circuit Court at Keyser yesterday.

White had been convicted by a jury of participating in the burglary of the W. Va. State Liquor Store at Ridgeley.

In passing sentence, which will start from conviction last week, Judge See imposed an additional five-year term on White-Jones for perjury during the Mineral County Court hearing. The five-year term will begin from the day he enters the penitentiary.

Judge See questioned the former Marylander about various charges on which he had been convicted in Maryland since 1937, but White-Jones replied he had "nothing to say" on any of them. He did admit to the court that he was guilty of a batt charge for which he was convicted in 1947.

Judge See told White-Jones that he will be returned to Mineral court during the October term to face additional charges, and requested John Hamilton, Keyser, to continue to serve as counsel to the prisoner.

At the opening of the hearing last Monday, White-Jones refused the offer of Hamilton as counsel, explaining that he "was more familiar in such matters."
